

Although the WA Metering Code specifies metrology requirements for revenue and SCADA purposes, it is silent on the provision to the customer of a real-time power monitoring capability