Expert Advisor – Heritage
element

Nerida Moredoundt is an experienced architect with a notable track record for her work on complex urban revitalisations and adaptive reuse projects. She is the Expert Advisor – Heritage at element, a multidisciplinary planning and design company that uniquely includes specialists in placemaking, heritage, community engagement, arts and culture.

Nerida is a member of the Australian Institute of Architects, Australia ICOMOS and the Heritage Council of WA. She is the Chair of the Joondalup Design Review Panel, and a member of the Wanneroo and Stirling Design Review Panels.

She has built a reputation for delivering iconic and innovative solutions for some of Western Australia's most valued heritage places and has a keen interest in facilitating outcomes that support long-term sustainability within the context of contemporary community expectations and good design practice.
