

Director Harrison and White Pty Ltd	Stuart Harrison is a registered architect and President of Open House Melbourne. He has worked extensively in public radio, TV, architectural history and authored three books on housing. He is a former host of Restoration Australia and advocate for good design and the re-use of buildings. He is a director of the award-winning architectural practice Harrison and White, and has worked on masterplanning, housing, public and education projects. The practice completed a six-year collaboration for RMIT University: the New Academic Street project in 2018, which won numerous Victorian and national awards. He consults nationally on design excellence and is a member of several other design review panels, including the South Australia State Design Review Panel, the Victorian Design Review Panel, and rotating Chair of the City of Ballarat Design Review Panel. Stuart has taught architectural design and history widely at RMIT, Monash University and University of Technology Sydney.
--	--
