

SEN is concerned that the current market rules and regulatory approach does not enable new generation to enter the market in a timely fashion and SEN encourages the government